2012-2013
ANNUAL REPORT

NURTURING CATHOLIC LEADERS

And Then There Were Two!

The Duke Catholic Center is pleased to welcome Fr. Michael Lasky, OFM Conv. to the Duke Catholic Center as an Associate Director! He joins Fr. Martin and the rest of the Duke Catholic Center staff to better serve Catholics on campus.

"I'm excited to be here and to begin writing my contribution to Duke," said Fr. Lasky. "The combined harmony of the Catholics and so many other groups on campus can only strengthen the melody that is Duke University."

With over 1200 Catholics on campus, Fr. Lasky will be a much needed addition to the campus ministry staff. With his office being at the Falcone-Arena House, he will be a Catholic presence on East Campus and will be able to better serve the all the Catholic freshman who make East Campus their home.

Prior to coming to Duke Fr. Lasky worked at Franciscan's International, an NGO in the United Nations. He was the Director of America's Program which connected the Franciscans working in the grassroots throughout the American hemisphere to the UN. Aside from his experience at the United Nations, Fr. Lasky also has experience in campus ministry after serving 5 years of Director of the Catholic Center at Western Connecticut State University. While at Western Connecticut State, Fr. Lasky was an adjunct faculty member for a course he created on Human Rights.

Fr. Lasky is excited to bring his experience of campus ministry and human rights to Duke. He will spearhead the service and social justice issues projects at the Duke Catholic Center.

"I'm excited to be able to write and play my note, which will have a very Franciscan tone of concern for the poor, marginalized and most vulnerable," said Fr. Lasky.

With the arrival of Fr. Lasky, the OFM Conventual Franciscans have established a friary in Durham to be closer to campus and serve the Duke Catholic community.

DOUBLE vision

About ten years ago I started really needing reading glasses. I have been informed by a graduate student here who works on laser technology for eye surgery that I have a common condition for a person my age (euphemism for old???) called presbyopia. It is the progressively diminished capacity to focus on near objects. As a result, I go to Sam's Club everyone once in a while and buy "cheaters" in a 6-pack and have them everywhere so that I can see. Some of my friends are challenging me to just break down and get glasses and wear them all of the time. I am holding out as long as I can—I hate wearing them and take them off every chance I get. It beats double vision!

For many on Duke's campus these days, there is an epidemic of double vision—they are seeing TWO friars on campus, and two FR. MICHAEL'S no less! I am thrilled that we are welcoming Fr. Michael Lasky, OFM Conv. to Duke for more than two reasons—many more! First and foremost, our ministry is growing and we need to have the staffing to address the needs of a more active Catholic community here on campus. To have someone with Fr. Michael's background (especially related to service learning and advocacy for the marginalized) will bring expertise to our program in areas where we have done just an adequate job in the past. His knowledge and experience will take outreach to the less fortunate to a new level that will be difference making for those we serve as well as for the students having that experience.

Another blessing of Fr. Michael's presence is the growth of our Franciscan presence on campus. I have often said that you don't really know a Franciscan until you know at least two of them. While we are different, we are on the same page in our vision of spiritual life as grounded in our founder, St. Francis of Assisi. The fact that our community has committed two friars to the Duke Catholic Center is a testament to its dedication to this ministry at a time when human resources are tight. Celebrating the charism of our founder at the DCC will help our students to find what even Pope Francis has known—Francis of Assisi is a powerful saint for our time!

Join me in welcoming Fr. Michael. We continue to grow into our vision for the future. It is a vision that doubles with opportunities for many Duke students to encounter Christ in their lives through many different venues and many different people. We have an excellent staff here at the Center, and we look forward to future growth so that we can multiply our vision for building God's kingdom here on campus.

Wedding Bells

Because of our proximity to the Duke Chapel, the Duke Catholic Center prepares and helps organize large number of weddings of alums and friends of the University that come to the beautiful Duke Chapel to celebrate their nuptials. Throughout the year, Fr. Mike typically prepares over 30 couples for marriage. It is always exciting when a couple who met through the Duke Catholic Center decides to tie the knot. One of these Duke Catholic Center couples who recently got married is Hillary and Stephen Clement, '13.

Stephen and Hillary met toward the end of their freshman year at the Duke Catholic Center freshman Bible Study. "Neither of us had any idea that we would date much less marry each other," said Hillary. They continued to deepen their friendship through their involvement in the Duke Catholic Center throughout their sophomore year, coordinating the Catholic Center Welcome Cookout, going to Bible Study, Mass, Holy Hour and hanging out with their friends at Catholic Center social events.

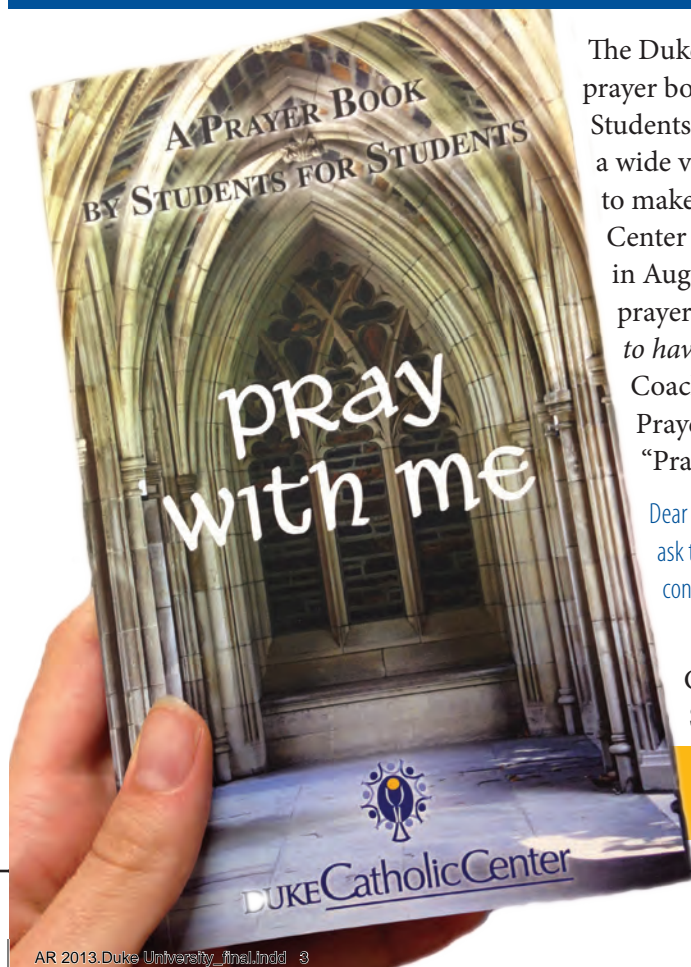

Then, after both going on the DCC Spring Break Mission Trip in Jamaica in 2011, they started dating. "And soon realized that God was calling us to marriage," said Hillary. "We credit the DCC with providing us with a supportive faith environment that helped us to grow in our faith as individuals so we could become a stronger team together in marriage."

They tied the knot in a beautiful nuptial Mass at the Duke Chapel with Father Mike presiding, surrounded by family, friends and many Duke Catholic Center alums.

Did you and your spouse meet through Duke Catholic Center? If so, tell us your story, and we'll feature it in our next eNewsletter!

Pray With Me: A Prayer Book by Students for Students

The Duke Catholic Center is happy to announce the publication of its very first prayer book! Pray with Me is a prayer book written by Duke Students for Duke Students. Over the past year, dozens of students reflected and wrote prayers on a wide variety of issues they face every day at Duke—from a "Prayer for courage to make the right choice" to a "Prayer for falling in love." The Duke Catholic Center compiled all these prayers to publish this book. Since its publication in August, over 500 prayer books have been distributed. The book begins with prayer testimonials written by Duke Staff. "Prayer is our privilege—the privilege to have a powerful conversation with God where we speak from our heart," reads Coach Mike Kryzewski's prayer testimonial. After a chapter on Traditional Prayers and A Guide to Confession, the student prayers begin. Excerpt from "Prayer for Duke":

Dear Lord, I praise you in thanksgiving for all of the wonderful people you have placed at Duke University. . . I ask that you send down your Holy Spirit to bless all of the work done here and to sanctify it so that it may continue to further the building of your kingdom in a special way. — Emily Mattoon, T'13

The publication of the book was made possible by a generous gift by Coach David Cutcliffe's family. It is being handed out for free to all Duke Students.

Purchase Pray With Me for $12 ($10 funds future printings, $2 for shipping).
