Pricing Validity and Itinerary Adjustments

- The pricing and itinerary included in this proposal were prepared on November 26, 2024.
- The final price and itinerary depend on the availability and cost of services at the time of the client's reservation request.
- The final price may be revised up to 20 calendar days before departure due to:
 - Changes in transportation costs (including fuel prices).
 - Changes in applicable taxes or fees (e.g., airport landing or boarding taxes).
 - Exchange rate fluctuations affecting the trip.

This budget has been prepared on 11/27/2024. The maintenance of the price and the itinerary expressed in this budget is conditioned by the availability and cost of the services that comprise it at the time the client requests the firm reservation, in such a way that the final price or some point of the itinerary may vary until the moment the client requests the formalization of the reservation and we reconfirm the services and their cost with the suppliers.

Once the client has made a firm reservation and the services and their price have been confirmed by the agency, this can only be reviewed up to 20 calendar days before the departure date in the event that there are variations in the cost of the services. transport (including the price of fuel), in the fees or taxes relating to certain services (such as landing, boarding or disembarking at ports and airports) and in the exchange rates applied to the trip.
